RIOTING IN THE STREETS OF LONDON

12,000 PERSONS TOOK PART IN DEMONSTRATION

GOVERNMENT OFFICES AND PREMIER'S RESIDENCE WERE OBJECTS OF ATTACK

POLICE GOT RIOTERS ON THE RUN IN LATE AFTERNOON

By CHAS. McCANN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) London, Oct. 18.—Rioting, following the call of the nation wide coal strike broke out today in White Hall and Downing street on which the government offices and Premier Lloyd George's residence are located. Forty were injured in fighting between police and rioters. At 4:20 p. m. the fighting was still continuing.

The rioters made repeated charges on police with showers of missiles, tearing up pavements and ripping down balustrades. Many police were knocked from their horses and the horses ran wildly through the crowd.

At 4:50 p. m. police got the crowd on the run.

The police came on again and again, hitting right and left with their truncheons at the heads of the raiders.

Many injured were carried into Downing street which looked like a hospital with men laid out on the sidewalk and others being carried into the houses.

Troops were diverted from the area in which the riot occurred and police cordons were unable, at some distance from the scene of the fighting, to hold back the great crowd which thronged toward it from every direction as the news of the riot spread.

The crowds carried red flags in the front rank and sang a revolutionary song entitled "The Red Flag."

The fighting extended from Downing street through White Hall, a distance of one block to Trafalga square.

Windows in government offices were broken by the mob. Mounted police drove the crowd from Downing street where the premier's residence is located. The mob was forced into White Hall with such pressure that stone parapets were broken in front of the foreign office. Crowds tried to force their way through police cordons surrounding the premier's residence, but were repulsed. The police wielded clubs freely injuring a number of rioters. Several arrests were made. It was estimated twelve thousand persons took part in the demonstration. The few police about the residence hurriedly called for reserves and mounted officials appeared. With the mob in an ugly mood, but with few weapons, there was little trouble in forcing them back from Downing street. Most of the fighting took place in White Hall.

50 to 100 Injured

London, Oct. 18.—At 5:40 p. m. it was unofficially estimated from fifty to one hundred persons were injured either by flying stones or by being crushed or trampled upon.

At six o'clock the streets in the riot district had been cleared except for small knots of pedestrians. Fifty policemen remained on guard at the Premier's residence.

Practically all windows in government buildings lining White Hall and Downing street were broken.

When the mob had been driven away ambulances entered the area and began carrying away the wounded who were left as they fell or carried into the houses.

While the riot was at its height, Premier Lloyd George was in conference with fifteen mayors of London boroughs on problems raised by the strike.

The mayors were told of a scheme to care for the unemployed. Lloyd George plans to discuss the plan when he speaks at the opening of parliament tomorrow.

BRITISH INDUSTRY HARD HIT BY COAL MINER'S STRIKE

MILLS AND FACTORIES FEEL THE PINCH AND WILL SHUT DOWN TODAY

CHAS. McCANN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 18.—With coal mining stopped entirely by the strike of one million miners, Great Britain's industrial life ebbed today. Mills and factories immediately felt the pinch. Many announced they would shut down today. Labor and labor party meetings were scheduled here for this week. Strike votes in numerous unions were expected to follow those sessions.

The most important of the labor meeting will be that of the executives of the triple alliance—the miners, railroad, and transportation workers. Controlling more than three million men the triple alliance was expected to exert a powerful influence either to settle the strike of coal miners or participation of further trouble.

TWO CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM SING SING PRISON

(United Press)

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Posses were searching the hills of western Connecticut and West Chester county, New York, today for two convicts who spread terror throughout these sections after they escaped from the Sing Sing prison Saturday night.

The men are George Stivers, 21, serving a twenty years' sentence for killing a policeman, and Marcus Hasset, 25, sentenced for stealing an automobile.

The convicts, who were "trusties", escaped by hiding in an anti room of the key room, and felling two guards with clubs then made their way to the yard and attacked another guard, obtaining a rifle and a revolver. They stole an automobile and after crossing the line near Danbury, Connecticut, held up a garage man and forced him to replenish their gasoline supply. Later they encountered two automobilists and robbed them of twenty-three dollars and overcoat, with which they hid their gray prison clothing. At New Milford they again run out of gas and held up another garage man.

GOV. COX OPENS UP-STATE NEW YORK CAMPAIGN

SAYS POLICY OF ISOLATION WILL NOT MAKE AMERICA FIRST

HERBERT WALKER

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Gov. Jas. M. Cox speaking before a crowd that jammed a theatre here today, pledged that if elected he "will confer with Ex-President Taft, Elihu Root and other respected groups," in addition to the senate, and secure ratification of the treaty with reservations that do not impair the league of nations covenant.

Enroute with Gov. Cox, Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 18.—A national policy of isolation and selfishness will not make "America first" throughout the world, Gov. James M. Cox said here today in opening his "up-state" New York campaign.

Enroute here the democratic candidate announced the course he will pursue during the remaining thirteen working days of the campaign. He will attack continuously what he calls the wiggling and wabbling attitude of Senator Harding toward the league of nations. His first speech here was before an organization of first time voters.

"America is not selfish. It means that we so love freedom of America that wherever in the whole world the name of America is mentioned it shall mean honor, loyalty, progress, humanity and peace. To shout 'America first' and then oppose making America first throughout the world is to turn our backs on progress and on ideals which the framers of our great constitution wove into the soul of America."

Cox praised the work of school teachers and declared they were entitled to a substantial recognition by state and nation.

"The league of nations is founded upon the spirit of American freedom," Cox said.

Cox declared he is confident the mothers and young men will back the league.

Touching on education the governor said our standard should be a "triangle of more intellectual and physical development."

"Progress," said Cox, "means every man has absolutely equal chance."

WILSON WRITES HARDING NOTE OF INQUIRY

CONCERNING REPORTED STATEMENT THAT FRANCE WOULD WELCOME WORLD CONFERENCE

L. C. MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Oct. 18.—President Wilson today asked Senator Harding, republican nominee, if he said in his speech at Green Castle, Indiana, Saturday, that he had been "informally approached by a spokesman of France who asked that America lead the way in forming an association of nations."

The president's letter was contained in a letter given out today at the White House.

The letter is as follows:

"My dear sir: In the New York Times of Sunday, October 17, 1920, I find a dispatch dated St. Louis, Oct. 16, which purports to report recent speech utterances of yours, in which are the following: 'Replying to criticisms of his proposal for an association of nations, he said in a rear platform speech at Green Castle, Indiana, that he already had been approached informally by a representative of France who asked that the United States lead the way to a world fraternity.'"

"I write to ask if this is a correct quotation, and if you really said all that is accredited to you. I need not point out to you the grave and extraordinary instances that may come from such a statement. Namely that the government of France, which is a member of the league of nations, approaches a private citizen of a nation which is not a member of the league, with a request that the United States lead the way to a world fraternity. The department of state has always found the government of France most honorable, and mindful of international obligations, and punctiliously careful to observe all the proprieties of international intercourse. I hesitate to discuss it until I am assured by you that you actually made the statement. Very truly yours, signed, Woodrow Wilson."

The letter to Senator Harding was given out without comment, but it was intimated that if Senator Harding replied that he was correctly quoted, it might be either a letter or statement based upon Harding's speech forthcoming from the "front porch."

Harding Will Make Statement Tonight

RAYMOND CLAPPER

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Marion, Ohio, Oct. 18.—After reading copies of President Wilson's letter, Senator Harding announced he would make a statement tonight for publication tomorrow.

The original of the President's letter, asking Warren G. Harding regarding a speech he made in Green Castle, Indiana, Saturday, in which overtures from informal spokesmen from France regarding proposals of a republican association of nations were referred to had not reached Senator Harding at noon today.

It was questioned as to who the spokesman might have been, but it was recalled here some weeks ago M. Herrer, former ambassador from France, held a conference with Senator Harding and later discussed the attitude of Europe toward revision of the league of nations.

ASKS DISMISSAL OF CASE AGAINST JAS. A. PETERSON

Washington, Oct. 18.—The government today confessed error, and asked dismissal of its case under the espionage act of James A. Peterson, of Minnesota.

The court dismissed the case and prosecution of Peterson. Peterson, at one time an opponent of Knute Nelson, wrote an article for a newspaper which the government claimed was disloyal.

The government won in the lower court. The solicitor general today said the government dismissed the case because it could not justify a judgment against Peterson.

INVESTIGATE CHARGES
WALL STREET BANKERS
FIXED MONEY RATES

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 18—Charges that a small coterie of Wall street bankers fix money rates so that value of liberty bonds has declined and legitimate business has been stifled, will be gone into by farmers demanding loans to finance their crops, their representatives said today.

The charges were made by John Skelton Williams, comptroller of currency who said that the small group fixed the rate for demand money shortly before the exchanges opened each day, and the rates thus fixed were posted as the rate for that day. This he said, tended to defeat the purpose of the federal reserve act which looks to an orderly distribution of money.

The Next President.

As certain as anything can be, in this world, is the election of Senator Harding.

To readers of this newspaper, the many family groups to which it comes a regular welcome visitor, Senator Harding's face shines as that of a friend.

Senator Harding, your next President, is your kind of man. You see him, hear a few words, and you know it.

He was born in a small town, has lived there all his life, lives there now, and will live there again when he leaves the White House with his work for the country done.

How He Lives.

He lives as you live, simply, in the old fashioned American way.

The main residence street in any little American town, boasts half a dozen homes more elaborate than Senator Harding's, and many as good.

Millions of men, believing in this country, devoted to its government, SATISFIED with the UNITED STATES, believe that the United States is able to deal with its own problems, and settle its own questions free from outside assistance or interference.

Those millions of men are men of the same sort as Senator Harding.

What Kind of Man.

Harding is a big American in physical size, thanks to vigorous farming ancestors. He is a big American also in heart, in understanding, in sympathy and in simplicity.

You read his speeches and know that he does not imagine himself created to tell all the world what to do. He believes in, and he understands the American people, his friends, the citizens of his own little town, Marion, Ohio, and the dwellers in thousands of other towns like it.

Your Servant, No Autocrat.

After you have elected him, you will find in Senator Harding an earnest, conscientious, straight thinking servant of the people, not an autocrat, but a man respecting the traditions of American government, and the Constitution of the United States.

Senator Harding understands that the people will elect him to be President of the United States, not President of the whole world. He will know that he is employed by the PEOPLE of this country to look after the interests of THIS country.

Born on a farm, living all his life close to farmers, he knows and sympathizes with the problems of the farm. Living in the average American way, in the average American small town, he knows the problems of the average American. He understands the printers he employs, and he knows their trade and sets type as they do.

His Ambition.

Senator Harding has no ambition to be called a political superman, or RULER of America. It is his ambition to be known as a good American, a faithful servant of those that trust him.

National politics are discussed this year less than at any election since the republic was founded. Why? Because men do not discuss, to any great extent, that which is DEFINITELY SETTLED.

And this national election is definitely settled as you read this. YOU know it.

But it is important that demonstration of the popular will should be of the most overwhelming kind. Therefore the good citizen will do what he can to increase the vote for Harding, should there be any doubtful votes within reach of his voice.

It is almost ludicrously difficult to find a man or woman that intends to vote the Democratic ticket this year.

But if you do find one, show him or her this picture of the next President. And express in your own way the reasons that inspire you to approve and vote for him.

What is Senator Harding's outlook upon life? It is YOUR OWN.

Read these extracts from one of his recent speeches:

"This government is your government, not that of somebody who is placed in office."

"You clothe us with authority. We are pleased to execute your will. And one reason I want the Republican party in power once more is because we are responsive to the will of the people of the United States and do not try to tell you that what one man thinks is necessary."

No hallucination there, no idea that Harding was made to rule, and YOU, who read this newspaper, made to be ruled, or preached at from above by your own elected servant.

The duty of the American, whether he be President or simple citizen, is not complicated in Mr. Harding's mind. He says:

"As I said at the outset, government is a very simple thing, government is only the regulation of our relationships to one another. The government's first task is the protection of the minority against autocracy, or the domination of the majority that sometimes forgets the rights of the minority."

"I am preaching the gospel of popular representative government in the United States, a government that does not know any class anywhere in all this Republic."

In his speeches and in his daily life, running for the Presidency or running his country newspaper, Senator Harding is just an everyday American neighbor. This is what he says, as he bids farewell to a crowd of friends:

"I am very happy to see you all this morning. As I have said, I want you to know me, and I am delighted to know you. We are going to work together for the good of the United States, and we are going to hold America first in all our thoughts and in all our actions."

Women Voting.

Women especially have reason to congratulate themselves on the fact that Senator Harding will be the next President.

Their sons are taken in war. Their husbands and fathers are taxed to pay for war. They spend the lonely hours of dreadful anxiety, while the son is away.

They, above all, are interested in having for President such a man as Senator Harding.

He does not believe that foreign powers should be allowed to conscript American boys for war beyond the seas.

He does not believe that a Foreign Council should send to America for men and money to settle wars not of our making.

Senator Harding does not believe that this country should be taxed to finance the ambitions or the land greed of foreign nations, and as he believes, so the earnest men and women of this country believe.

When you cast your vote for Senator Harding, you will vote for YOUR KIND OF MAN, the intelligent, straightforward, unpretentious American citizen. President Harding will be an American President, not an international President.

You will have in the White House a man of constructive mind, a plain American with no dreams of world dominion, but with a settled determination to restore normal conditions and normal prosperity to this country.

After the War.

After a war that has destroyed old conditions, cost many lives, squandered many billions in reckless extravagance and dishonesty, and weakened respect for the Constitution, you need for President a straightforward, constructive American.

And you will have such a man in the White House after the 4th of next March, for after that the President of the United States will be Warren G. Harding, your kind of man, one that you would gladly trust with your own affairs, and the affairs of your country.

WHY LINDBERGH WAS A FAILURE

C. A. Lindbergh in his speech in St. Cloud the other evening in a rather astonishing confession, gave the reason why as congressman he was so complete a failure. He first related how legislation was threshed out in caucus, and tentatively decided upon. He attended one caucus, and as it was not managed to his liking, never attended another. In other words, he was a quitter, and not a fighter.—St. Cloud Journal Press.

In Accord With Volstead Law

Bismarck, Oct. 18.—The next session of the North Dakota legislature will be urged by the club women of the state to bring the prohibition laws of North Dakota into complete accord with the Volstead act. Endorsement of such a move was taken at the annual convention here the first of the month.

The federated club women of the state also went on record for state boards of censorship for moving pictures; encouragement of home demonstration agents' work; "teaching of mothercraft" in education as well as a "definite health league program" establishment of a secretary of education in the president's cabinet; and for survey of cripples in the state that whatever aid is needed may be extended.

HOLM BATTLED WITH POVERTY

Candidate for Secretary of State
 Has Made Own Way Since
 He Was Only Twelve
 Years Old.

MIKE HOLM.

Working by day and studying by night, Mike Holm of Roseau overcame adversities that beset him in his youth and is today a living example of what America can do for a young man who is ambitious and industrious.

He came of poor, hard-working parents, who lacked the means to send the son through school. At the age of 12, he decided that where there is a will there is a way and ever since he has made his own way in the world.

Mr. Holm was born June 17, 1876. His early days were spent on his parent's homestead in Marshall County, where his father was one of the pioneers in blazing the trail of civilization through the wild wastes of that district. At the age of 11, the family moved to a farm in Roseau county. A year later, the young Mike decided he would strike out for himself and then began his struggle for a livelihood, without parental help.

County Coroner at Twenty-one.
 He received most of his early education in the schools of Warren, working at various occupations when school duties did not demand his attention. After graduating in the public schools at Warren, he took a business course in the evenings and his application to his work won the praise of his teachers and laid the foundation for his later career.

His popularity among the older men of the county was widely commented upon and despite his objection he was made a candidate for county coroner when he was only 21. He was easily elected. Shortly after that he was made justice of the peace. He held the latter position for 7 years.

In 1902 he became a candidate for judge of probate and success again crowned his efforts. So excellent a public official was he that he has held that office ever since. During the last 10 years he has had no opposition at the polls.

He has always been most actively interested in public affairs and has held a number of positions of trust. Among these posts are: President of the Commercial Club; member of the village council; president and member of the school board for 10 years; president and secretary of the county fair association; secretary of the Commercial Club; trustee of the Presbyterian church; president of the Old Settlers' Association of Roseau county; director of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development Association and president of the Minnesota County Exhibitors' association.

Made State Fair Official.

For the last four years he has been a member of the Minnesota State Fair Board. This honor came to him in recognition of the work he had done in supervising the exhibits of Roseau county at the state fair each year. For four years, Roseau won the first prize for the best exhibit shown and last year, Roseau defeated all other counties by 63 points.

THE refining of petroleum has been revolutionized during the past ten years. Otherwise the present use of automotive machinery would be impossible.

In 1910 the average yield of gasoline from crude was 11 percent, while in 1919 this average had risen to about 26 percent, without in any way, impairing the quality of the product.

This tremendous advance was the direct result of applying the findings of scientific workers to the problems of industry, and in this work the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has taken a leading part.

The chemists and technical experts who have charge of the manufacturing activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have been pioneers in the scientific refining of crude oil.

Their success is attested by the fact that the Company has been able to produce an ever-increasing volume of gasoline from the petroleum available.

The gasoline problem is important, but it can and will be solved by individual initiative, stimulated by fair and reasonable competition.

In the solving of this problem, the interests of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), the manufacturer of automotive machinery, and the public are one—greatly increased production is essential.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is straining every fibre of its highly specialized organization to increase the quantity of gasoline which may be taken from the crude—to maintain the high standard of quality it has always insisted on, and to do this without disturbing the output of other useful and necessary refined products of petroleum which it must supply.

Senator P. H. McGarry Making Campaign to Put Over the Good Roads Amendments

RED RIVER VALLEY FAVORS IT If Amendment Does Not Pass Legislature May Have to Raise Farm Valuations

*****
"We may attend different churches, belong to different clubs, vote different tickets, wear different clothes, etc., but we all have to travel the same roads, so let's vote YES on Amendment No. 1," said Senator P. H. McGarry.

Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker was in Brainerd today, having just finished a speaking tour in the Red River valley, explaining the merits of the Babcock plan of good roads.

"The amendment will carry in the northwest section of the state, I am convinced of that," said Senator McGarry. He said it took persistent education and wide publicity to get the people interested in the project and enough so to vote for the amendment. Interest is being awakened in the road plan and questions are numerous wherever he has spoken.

Regarding cement, the senator said the bill was wide enough in its provisions to provide for state cement too.

If the roads amendment did not pass, the legislature may be compelled to raise farm land valuations. A 10 per cent increase would mean $2,000,000 additional revenue for the state and give it increased road money should the Babcock plan fail of carrying. Farms at present are assessed at 33 1-3 value and mining property at 50 per cent.

The senator has campaigned all of last week in the Red River valley. This week his itinerary carries him through Carlton, Olmsted and Fillmore counties.

BELIEVES FOUL PLAY CAUSED DEATH

Park Hill, father-in-law of Edward Salstad, missing Eau Claire, Wisconsin manufacturer, believes his son-in-law met with foul play. Hill lives in West Superior and ten years ago braked for John McNaughton of Duluth, then running a freight train. McNaughton now runs a passenger train on the Northern Pacific from Duluth to Staples and Hill at present is running a way freight out of Duluth on the Great Northern.

Hill on Saturday morning conversed with R. J. Kelly, freight conductor of the Northern Pacific, about the case and Kelly related the conversation to Mr. McNaughton.

According to the story, Hill is convinced his son-in-law Salstad met with foul play.

"The boy is a good boy and I believe foul play caused his death. As to this Dorothy Anderson, she must have run away with somebody else and not Salstad," said Hill.

Hill is further reported to have said that Salstad was at the home of his father-in-law before the lake cottage fire and all were making preparations for a family reunion.

LLOYD GEORGE AS A DOG SMUGGLER

(United Press)

London.—(By Mail)—Lloyd George lived up to his reputation as a "Welsh wizard" when he returned from Lucerne.

He managed to smuggle home with him as far as No. 10 Downing street a dog—not a "pon" or a "peke" but a St. Bernard, standing about three feet high.

Despite the regulations governing the matter of bringing a dog into the country, Lloyd George somehow managed to fool them all until he had got his new pet ensconced in a comfortable armchair before the domestic hearth.

Then came the moment of reckoning. The board of agriculture snatched the dog away, declaring it must spend the usual six months in quarantine and follow all the laws laid down for any John Smith's dog. Whereupon Lloyd George bid his canine friend an affectionate "au revoir" and settled himself down to being a law-abiding citizen.

The British premier is a dog-lover. He used to have a little black pug named "Zulu" and he still has a Welsh terrier "Cymro." The new-comer is a St. Bernard about eight months old, and was purchased from a shepherd at the Rhone Valley. At a station Captain Guest saw the dog and called Lloyd George's attention to it. In a few minutes the owner was presented to the premier and the St. Bernard sat up and offered a paw. The premier immediately made the shepherd an offer. The bargain was closed.

And now both master and dog are waiting patiently for the six months quarantine to expire.

COAL SHIPS IN HALF HOUR WITH MACHINE

(United Press)

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—Foreign ocean-going vessels are taking advantage of the automatic coal loading machine which has been installed at the Greenwich Point piers here. The system is borrowed from the plan in use on the Great Lakes, where iron ore is handled and shipped quickly and cheaply. By this method of coaling an ordinary sea-going craft can be coaled in less than half an hour, where it formerly took several days.

Fifty railroad tracks, forming a network and capable of holding 1,000 cars of coal, are built around the machine. The cars, specially constructed wait on the siding until a vessel is ready to coal. Each car passes through a concrete, steam heated thawing shed which is used for thawing coal in winter. Released from the thawing shed, the cars glide down a slight incline and up another where they are clamped to the rails. A huge platform, resembling an elevator, automatically places itself into a position of an acute angle. The coal is permitted to run from the car, onto the platform and into a V-shaped bowl which connects it with a chute from the hold of the ship.

The dumper was built at a cost of approximately $500,000 and is the only one in this section of the United States. Foreign vessels alone spend $1,000,000 monthly for coaling supplies here. Last month broke all previous record when 306,700 ton of coal was loaded on ocean-going craft.

PERHAPS THEY GO TO PHILADELPHIA TO REST

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—Officials of the Missing Persons Bureau here are mystified by the large number of persons they have been asked to locate in the past month by relatives residing in all sections of the country.

The list which is increasing daily, shows that fully 1,500 persons are being sought here. Many of these are young women, who police believe, have been enticed from their homes, or left the small cities for the greater opportunities which they believed existed here.

The bureau officials said they are confronted with a perplexing situation by requests to find persons who wandered from their homes while victims of amnesia. ## One Thing You Won't Regret

MOST of us do a lot of things that we often regret but there is one thing you can do with the absolute assurance that you will never, under any circumstances, have occasion to regret.

CHIROPRACTIC

The X-Ray and Chiropractic

The Chiropractor spends month after month for three years perfecting the sense of touch in his fingers so that he may correctly ascertain the location of each spinal segment in the patient's back. Even with his adeptness at locating these misaligned or subluxated vertebrae he is sometimes baffled; and to prove conclusively to himself that he is absolutely correct in his findings, he resorts to the X-ray. By taking a radiographic picture of the patient's spine, he is not only enabled to actually see the exact conditions as they exist, but he is also able to show the patient that condition.

"CHAMPS" DUCK DECISION FIGHTS

BY HENRY FARRELL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Oct. 18.—The right of Pete Herman, Johnny Kilbane, Benny Lenard and Johnny Wilson to their championship crowns may be disputed, but Tex Rickard, New York promoter, is willing to concede them all as the best champions the world has ever seen—at "ducking bouts."

Rickard, who, as the manager of Madison Square garden, has become the foremost of American promoters, has found it almost impossible to induce any of the champions outside of Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight king, to get in the ring for a decision.

"We expected to have some real fights in New York under the new boxing bill, but the champions have suddenly become deaf," he said.

"I have written numerous letters to Johnny Kilbane and he has ignored them. I even went so far as to let him pick his own opponent. I have tried to get in touch personally with Johnny Wilson and have sent representatives to him only to have them told that he is not ready to talk business. I had Benny Leonard and Eddie Fitzsimmons matched and the bout was called off. Pete Herman has been very slow in agreeing to meet the winner of the elimination series that is being conducted among the bantams.

Rickard, however, plans to force them into the ring. He has two plans in mind—one through the provisions of the Walker bill and the other by taking the radical stand that they are no longer champions and offering a club belt of his own to the winner of an elimination series among the contenders.

The Walker bill is very clear on this subject.

"Any boxer winning a championship under the International Rules must defend his title in a bona fide bout to a decision against the best available contender within a period of six months from the time of winning his title and thereafter every six months if a qualified challenger appears, unless he is prevented by circumstances beyond his control, in which case the time may be extended by the board of boxing control," the section reads.

Rickard has already offered a belt to the winner of the return engagement between Jack Sharkey and Joe Lynch, who fought a furious fifteen-round draw recently and are matched to meet again on November 5th in Madison Square garden.

Rickard also promises to make some interesting disclosure about the weight of several champions who are in a class heavier than their title.

While some excellent bouts have been staged under the New York laws and while there is little doubt that the future will see many just as good it is a fact that the champions will have to be coaxed a great deal to step into a ring with their crown at stake on a decision since they can go across the river in New Jersey and fight a twelve-round no-decision fight and get almost as much money.

DIALECTS MANY AND VARIED

Genesis of the Traveling American
May Be Pretty Well Recognized
By His Speech.

A survey just completed shows that 83 languages are in daily use in New York, not including three or four kinds of English. There is highbrow English, lowbrow English and the R-leese variety, besides the strange, inexplicable cockney kind, which gives all "or" sounds the sound of "ol." We say inexplicable, for we have never seen explained why in certain New York vernacular third is "thoid," bird is "bold" and curse is "colise."

Sometime, somewhere, that enunciation must have begun—whether on the Bowery or in Harlem or even in Broadway, nobody seems to know. Was it in existence in 1860? The New York literature of that era does not seem to so indicate. The converse of the boot-blacks and juvenile street sweepers of the wild and innocent action of those days reveal almost a Sunday school diction. The "colise" has swept over Manhattan since then. It came with the melting pot and may be part of it, for all we know.

The United States is large enough to contain a number of dialects and already it does contain them, so that one's genesis is pretty well distinguished by his speech. We know New England by its "loving" laugh and they know us by our "larding" one. "Ask" in some parts of the South is as flattened out almost as the "a" in "bake," while still remaining "oak" in Massachusetts.

Our pluribus unum language is truly that kind, and likely to become more pluribus as the country grows older.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

JIMMY'S COAT.

Take a slant at Jimmy's coat,
Tiger-striped, as you will note;
Murphyesque in lines and hue,
Taggart-like in motif too.

How can he proclaim he's dry
With this garb to shock the eye?
Tailors wouldn't dare to put
Such a thing on "Pussyfoot."

Jimmy's raiment harks us back
To the festive racing track.
Can't you hear the "hookies" shout
And the whispers of the tout?

Needn't tell us where he's at—
Wet or dry—his coat tells that.
Bryan took one slant at it,
Then his heart curled up and quit.

—CARLTON FITCHETT.
